

Celebrating a Year of Arts & Culture

Michigan State University has a long history of nurturing creative faculty and cultural programs, as well as supporting the arts and cultural arena within the campus, state, nation, and global communities. MSU's Year of Arts & Culture in 2007/08 recognizes a remarkable time at the university: MSU celebrates the opening of two new arts-focused colleges, College of Music and the Residential College in the Arts and Humanities. At the same time, the MSU Museum, MSU Press, and Wharton Center for the Performing Arts will mark milestone anniversaries; and new cultural facilities and technologies will help us reach ever-growing audiences.
